Our oldest child, now 6 years of age, when an in-fant 6 months old was attacked with a virulent, ma-lignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid resh, ugly, painful, blotched and malicious.
We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally we were advised to try the CUTICUBA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvelous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the lit-tle fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, heaithy chiid, perfectly well, no repetition

TO-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

LONDON, February 20.—When the Parnell Commission met this morning the court-room and its precincts were crowdeds Mr. Parnell was present. Mr. Houston, Secretary of the Irish Loyal and Patriotic Union was further cross-examined. He said he destroyed Piggott's letter to him in secondance with an agreement made between them that they were intended for the witness' eye alone and were not to be used publicly. Up to the time witness went to Paris Piggott had not given him the names of any of the persons connected with the letters secured by the Times. He did norconsider that a knowledge of the men from whom the letters were obtained was important in connection with the question of their genuineness. Witness said his part was done when the letters were obtained. He accepted them without securing any means of testing Piggott's statement in event of their genuineness being questioned, because he understood that it was ussiess to linquiries would ONLY BANDICAP BIMSELY.

He had no means whatever of testing any part of Piggott's story, which he regarded as probable, especially asthe novapaper reports of the dispute between Mr. Farnell and the american extremists to some extent confirmed Piggott's story that the letters were left in a bar found in a room in Paris. Witness showed the letters to Lord Huntington and asked his advice as to their disposition, but his lordship refused to advise him. He did not offer the letters to the Pail Mell Gazette. He saw Mr. Stead, editor of the Gazette, before he obtained possession of the letters and asked him to make up matter which would lead to the disclosures. Mr. Stead said he had lost £3.00 by the publication of the "Modern Babylon" articles and he would not like to touch anything else unless he knew it would be successful.

TOOK PIGGOTT'S WORD.

When witness visited Paris he had no gennine specimens of either of Mr. Parnell's or Mr. Egan's writing. He accepted the letters solely on Piggott's word.

"If," said the witness, "Piggott had been needy or fraudulent enough to commit perjury, my action would have assisted him; but id on ot admit that he was either. Piggott's interviews with Mr. Labouchere shook my faith in him and, therefore, my mind was not easy until he had signed the sworn declaration."

Witness further said he might have told Mr. Stead the Masses.

Witness further said he might have told Mr. Stead that Messrs. Sexton and Dillon were implicated in the Phonix Park murders; but if he did so it was on the authority of a statement made by Eugene Davis to Piggott, a copy of which was produced by the witness. He did not know where the original was. Two days before the Commission opened Piggott wrote him an abusive letter, demanding that after giving testimony before the Commission, he should be given £5,000.

years ago a five-year contract was made, under which the Adams was to control all the express business of the Reading lines. It was not long, however, before the United States Express Co. began shipping express matter from New York to Bay Side, N. J., via the New Jersey Southern Railroad and thence by boat a distance of fifty miles to Philadelphia. After a time, however, the United States Co. began to ship via the Boundbrook route in sealed freight cars. All protestations on the part of the Adams people were unavailing. They placed their accounts before President Corbin, showing him that the express company was losing from $10,000 to $12,000 per month on its Reading business, and asked for a sufficient reduction of the amount to be paid to the railroad company for transportation to make it profitable for the express company to handle its business. They also wanted the Reading to desist from carrying packages as "special freight" for the United States Co. The dispute lasted for some time and finally the Adams Co. threw up its contract with the Reading shallroad in disgust. It had paid $2,000,000 for the Reading's express business but the trial proved unsuccessful, unaided as it was by the Reading. To day the Adams Co. begins shipping over the Pennsylvania line exclusively. It claims that it can thus reach every important point that it can thus reach

The balance of profit in 1887 was $1,367,000. The gross earnings of the Central Pacific for 1888, which are included in the statement of the Southern Pacific Co., were $15,345,000, expenditures $14,882,000, leaving a balance of $963,000. The expenditures include all sinking fund requirements under the Thurman act, interest on the bonds, etc. As the rental guaranteed by the Southern Pacific Co. is $1,360,000,

The charge against the night, on a warrant. The charge against the Prince is grand larceny. It appears that six weeks ago the Prince obtained a sealskin overcoat from August T. Rockwell valued at $500. The coat was to be paid for on the 15th. Instead De Gourke pawned the coat for $100 in a Sixth avenue pawn-shop. Upon searching the room of the Prince a number of pawn tickets, representing clothing and jeweiry, were found. This is the Prince who followed Mrs. Frank Leslie about London and wanted her to marry him. It is said that he was arrested several times in London on charges of defrauding his creditors. Soon all the streets in the neighborhood of that house of the dead were crowded with people anxious to view the unfortunate girl's remains. She was at that age when she had just commenced to bud into womanhood, and the supposition is that she temporarily lost her reason, as girls sometimes do at that period of life, and that while so demented she wandered about until she came to the river and either walked or jumped in. Her parents and sister had come on here when first telegraphed of Zou's disappearance, and the blow was a terrible one to them, for they had all along hoped she had been kidnaped and was being held for ransom, which they would willingly have paid. Of all local cases in which girls were missing from home for any period of time this is the only one which terminated fatally, all theother girls having been found ally.

It is provided that no contracts shall be made by the parties to the agreement or by the connecting roads, which guarantee rates for any period of time. It is agreed that the companies will communicate to all roads, with which they onter into traffic arrangements, the conditions necessary to protect their interests and that such traffic arrangements shall not be continued or new ones formed which are not in strict conformity with the principles upon which the trunk line association is pased. Says Mr. Fink: "Unleas the provisions of this section are faithfully enforced by the trunk lines, every effort which they can make to protect the interests of their companies and to reach the best financial results of the operation of their roads would be in vain."

What Local Shippers Think.

Among local shippers the news of the trunk ement made little or no stir, as it was regarded as not of great importance, for the regarded as not of great importance, for the present at least.

after reading the telegram, said: "I can not see that the new pooling arrangement will greatly alter the situation, except in as far as it renders freight rates less liable to danger, and makes discrimination less easy. Whatever tends toward uniformity of rates is of advantage to distributing points, as it prevents cutting in favor of little outlying points. St. Louis has suffered in this way, and if the agreement, which seems to me to be ironclad, is only lived up to, St. Louis will be considerably benefited. As a matter of fact, the trunk line agreement is only a means for strengthening the interstate commerce law, and its existence will only act as in a measure insuring its observance. It seems to be directed principally against secret cutting and as far as this is prevented we are benefited. But no one seems to have much faith in its continuance and I do not know that its effect will amount to much. What the railroads should do would be to aboilsh their present winter rates, which are practically prohibitory, and make charges which would enable us to keep the crop moving all the year round. As it is, the wheat is stored up on farms and in the elevators until the waterways open, when the price is knocked down 8 or 10 cents in a day. We want the railroads to live, and if they will only give as a fair and equal chance, which this agreement seems calculated to do, we can adjust our business to whatever reasonable rates they make. Let cutting stop and St. Louis can more than hold its own."

vent the sudden lowering of prices, which is of itself often a discrimination of the worst character. Rates cannot be raised without ten days' notice, but they can be depressed at any time, thus practically in many instances, making a strong discrimination in favor of a particular shipper. There is nothing new in the trunk line agreement beyond co-operation with the Interstate Commission, and as I need to be of great benefit to St. Louis as a distributing point, I think the trunk lines are acting in our interest."

We have always been given the worst of rate-cutting wars, and know that a fair fixed tariff is just what St. Louis needs. Given this, and we can do the

A number of other gentlemen representing large shipping interests were interviewed on the subject and without exception expressed the belief that an established tariff, observed by all roads, would be of great benefit to the trade of St. Louis.

WASHINGTON, D. He declined to yield to enable the Speaker to clear his table of Senate bills, although he was warned by Mr. Hooker of Mississippi that he had better do so. Mr. Crisp of Georgia raised the question of consideration against the conference, stating that while he was willing to give precedence to appropriation bills he would antagonize any other measures with the contested election caso. The House determined—yeas, 134; nays, 28—to consider the conference report, but Mr. Bland of Missouri moved a reconsideration, having voted in the affirmative, to enable him to make that motion. Mr. Keily moved to table the motion to reconsider.

With regard to Mr. Windom, be said that while Windom's inactivity for some time past in political matters had made his selection for the Treagury portfolio something of a surprise, that surprise would disappear when his political career was recalled. Mr. Windom had not only been a leading man in both the House of Representatives and the Senate, but when in Congress he had been very prominent in consection with the currency question. Perhaps nobody in Congress had given a more thorough study to the subject of interstate commerce than Mr. Windom and if his speeches in connection with currency were read now, they would be found to be singularly sensible and level headed.

senate this morning under the previous question rule enforced by the majority, the bill creating the Supreme Court Commission was passed. Senator Byrd then sought to bring up the bill creating the department of geology, but Johnson (R.) had in the meantime secured recognition from the chair. Byrd claimed the floor, attempted to move the previous question and shut off all debate. Johnson vigorously protested and claimed the floor. A wrangle ensued. The Chair allowed Johnson for minutes, which he devoted to scoring the majority, vehemently denouncing the enforcement of a rule which prevented the minority from explaining their votes. When the five minutes had expired the presiding officer interrupted Johnson, who continued his fiery philliple, whereupon the chair ordered the roll called. Great confusion and excitement prevailed in the midst of which Doorkeeper Bulger called out that unless Johnson took his seat he would come down and seat him. Immediately all the Republican Senators arose and gatnered about Johnson, who indignantly challeged the doorkeeper to seat him. The excitement was great, and for a time a general conflict seemed imminent. When quiet was resored Senator Dresser (Rep.) announced that a caucus would be held immediately after adjournment, and it is thought all the Republican Senators arose may conclued to resign their seats and leave the Senate without a quorum.

California and the Cabinet.

Indianapolis, Ind., February 26.—The most interesting phase of Cabinet speculation just now is the prevailing impression that the now is the prevailing impression that the Pacific slope is going to be left out-in the cold. Until within the past few days it has been generally believed California would certainly be represented, but the recent publication of complete cabinet States with California omitted, has given rise to many conjectures as to the cause. The generally accepted theory is that it is due to factional strife and too many ambitious aspirants whose friends were entirely too ready to privately make detrimental charges. Judge M. M. Estee was regarded as having the best prospect of being called, and it is by no means regarded as settled that either his name or some other Californian will not finally appear among the cabinet stars. Gen. Harrison preserves his accustomed reticence about this as all other cabinet stars. Gen. Harrison arrived from Washington at lu o'clock this morning and proceeded immediately to Gen. Harrison's. He comes to talk over and to urge that the Pacific Slope be recognized. The Congressman had blood in his eye, so to speak, when he left for Gen. Harrison's residence and the suggestion that California was going to be left out brought from him aquick protest. He expects to return to Washington this afternoon.

Arrangements of the Different Floors-Secret Rooms-How the Sugar Was Re

have been seeking to enter the factory of the Electric Sugar Co. in Brooklyn for months, factory is a most remarkable structure. It is a five-story brick building, originally intended as a warehouse, and was rented by the Electric Sugar Co. at the earnest request of Prof. Friend. The three lower floors were open to the directors and stockholders of the company, but the two upper floors were guarded with a vigiliance that was simply extraordinary. Not even the holders of the company, but the two upper floors were guarded with a vigilance that was simply extraordinary. Not even the President of the company could visit them, and until exposure came no one was supposed to have passed the first of the big goors excepting Prof. Friend, his wife and Mr. Howard. The first floor is now filled with the original boxes in which Friend's sugar was shipped into the factory, and hundreds of hags of raw sugar which he was supposed to have electrified into finest quality of refined sugar, but which he simply hid away, are pilled up here. The second floor of the factory contained the paper-room, where the blue paper which was to line the barrels when filled with sugar was kept.

The third floor ended the territory which the company was allowed to visit. Here it was that all the "demonstrations" were made. Above the third floor was an impenetrable mystery to the company. When the sugar was pouring through the awe-stricken stockholders would hear rumbles and noises on the floors above, but they were only told that this floors above, but they were only told that this

There is a door at the foot of the stairway leading from the third to the fourth floor, and beside it a beli which the directors of the company had to pull when they wanted to see Friend or Howard. At the end of the stairs was a massive door, after which, when passed, there was still a third door which was even stronger then the other two. After passing through these doors the first of the secret rooms is reached.

One whole side is filled with seven so-called granulators. They are simply enormous sleves, one above the other, three in each tier, Much shatting and machinery is visible on this floor and all of the very highest quality. But it was the fifth and top floor that Friend used as his hollest and holy. The floor is divided into three compartments. One was used for Friend's private office, and the third was the secret room. Friend's office was elegantly fitted up. The secret room itself is a curiosity. It took the company three weeks to break into the room after the exposure, and then they selected the weakest spot and came down from above. There were two doors to this room, each about two feet thick, lined on this room, each about two feet thick inded on Friend. Inside this come great blocks the outside with two thicknesses of sheet iron, specially hammered and prepared for Friend. Inside this come great blocks of knarled oak laid so that the grain of no two blocks run in the same direction. Then came transverse bars of iron, then more wood and then another thick sheet of iron. Next to this iron was more oak, then on the inside iron sheetings. The whole mass was bound together by bolts as thick as one's wrist and the front of the door was all studded with iron nails which looked like spikes. Along the sides of the secret room were long tables covered with zinc. The tables were used to break not agree, with the right of appeal to the Executive committee.

It's like swallowing a tore hight procession to drink it, but with all this it has something of a pleasant taste. Those people like it fresh and the fresher it is the better they like it. They will ride sixty miles after it and bring it back in jugs on horseback. I ran across a newspaper scheme down there that was as humorous as it was successful. Some fellow in Ohio runs a family paper, and with a view to increasing his circulation he went to Boilinger County and bought up 500 acres of rocky, hilly land that hasn't soil enough on the whole 500 acres to raise one dandellon. Then he advertised that in the future every subscriber would receive a deed to a lot in his addition to the beautiful city of Marquand.

Marquand as only about five houses in it, and there are farms within the town limits, but this addition was on the hills, a mile and a half or two miles away. Evidently people subscribed to his paper, for they began coming into Marquand with their deeds and hunting for their lots, and there is now a representative from every State in the Union at Marquand who was induced to go there by his ownership of one of those lots. Men came from Wisconsin, Michigan, Florida and elsewhere. One man drove from Greeley County, Colo., with his wife in a one-horse wagon and a fellow who had a small jeweller's shop in New York City, sold out and went there to take possession of his property and open a store in the beautiful city of Marquand. Most of them speat all their money getting there, and now they can't get away. It was a great scheme, and no doubt brought to Marquand to make any more purchases."

The reporter asked Minister Preston if Meehan spoke truthfully.

"I have no such assurance," he answered, "nor any assurance from Mr. Blaine. If I had I would not be such a fool as to take Mr. Meehan into my confidence."

Minister Preston was again seen late last night by another reporter at the Westminster Hotel. He denied ever having said that his purpose was to detain the Madrid or Conserva until Mr. Blaine became Secretary of State.

"It would not be proper for me to criticise any actions of the present administration in regard to Hayti," said he. "Although it has really never recognized our present Government, it is true that Mr. Blaine is a personal friend of mine. During my nineteen years residence here I have been brought into close relations with him, but as for that matter Secretary Bayard is also a friend of nine. I am not personally acquainted with President Cleveland, but am with Gen. Harrison. Of course, I hope that the incoming administration will recognize Gen. Legitime, but more than that I will say nothing. Were I making confidents of anybody, it would not be my detective."

To still another reporter Detective Meehan said later in the day: "We had assurances from Secretary Bayard that the case of the Madrid was in the hands of President Cleveland. We did not expect that the vessel would be allowed to go to sea. Her clearance papers were obtained Saturday night too late for anything to be done. We made our movement as early as possible Monday morning."

The steamship Conserva was brought back to the city yesterday. She is now lying at Atlantic Basin, Brooklyn.

egraph to the Post-Disparch. NEW YORK, February 20 .- "May the Lord sides of this vessel in streams, " shouted one of the sailors on board Dominican Consul Julius' ironelad Conserva on Sunday morn-ing. The vessel had been properly cleared, and had started for Samana, Santa Domingo, and had started for Samana, Sapta Deleared, and had started for Samana, Sapta Domingo, ostensibly, aithough she was strongly suspected of an intention to put in at some North Haytien port. She is the vessel so hastily fitted out for a man-of-war at the Eric Basin. After the Carondelet seizure her owners cleared her before the repairs on her had been properly finished. The result was that she was not a dozen miles from Sandy Hook before she had seven feet of water in her hold. The erew mutinled and insisted upon a return to port. Capt. Ankers gave in and turned back and anchored in Gravessend Bay. This was lines for Minister Preston, who sent over to Brook lyn on Monday and laid a complaint before United States District Attorney Wilber that she was man-of-war violating the neutrality laws. United States Marshais seized her on Monday night and she was towed up to the Atlantic Basin yesterday. Now the crew want to libel her for wages for the voyage. was towed up to the Atlantic lissin yesterday. Now the cree want to libel her for wages for the voyage.

The vessel and her cargo have not yet been examined and probably won't be for some time. Minister Preston is in hopes that when the examination is made the Harrison administration will be in power and that the report will be made to James Gillespie Blaine as Secretary of State. The principal leakage on the Conserva was between the rivet-holes and the iron plates fastened to the vessel's sides have double half-holes as doors and exactly fit the Dahl-gron guns that are on board the Corondelet. Only for her unfortunate leakage the Conserva would have been under full steam for Haytl at this time. The big guns on the Carondelet will be of no use if there is no navy to put them aboard of. The fittere is no navy to put them aboard of. The

Cooper formerly commanded the Hayten Navy under Salamon. He is a son of Rear Admiral Cooper.

LITT LE JOHN RYAN'S DEATH.

The Coroner Investigating the Mystery With Little Success.

An inquest was started at 3 o'clock this afternoon on the body of John Ryan, the 9-year-old boy who died at the City Hospital yesterday from inat the City Hospital vesterday from injuries received on the 12th inst. On that day his mother, who is a washerwoman and is absent from home during the day, left the boy in Michael McInerney's saloon, 111 South Tenth street, having first obtained the permission of the proprietor to leave him there. While the boy was in the place warming himself it is alleged he was knocked down by a colored man named Noah Anderson. In falling the boy struck his mouth against the end of a box close by and he was caught in the abdomen by the handle of a shovel. The boy left the saloon crying and grosning with pain and went to his sister, Maggie Ryan, who was in their apartments in the same yard with the saloon. She rubbed him with coaffoll and put him to bed. No physician was called, however, and last Monday he had grown so bad that he was sent to the City Hospital, his mother not having the means to keep him at home and give him proper medical attention and care. He was only half consolous when he arrived at the hospital, and was soarce able to speak and not able to answer questions. At times he was delirious. A Very Neat Scheme.

Estill McHenry, the Assistant Postmaster, discovered a new method of raising mor for churches this morning at the cost of $1. He received a letter which was addressed to He received a letter which was addressed to him and on opening it found a piece of pasteboard with a round hole in the center of it, the size of a silver dollar. Two pieces of gummed paper were stuck on over the hole so that the dollar might be put in the hole and held in piace by the gummed silps. Printed on the pasteboard was: "Inclosed please find $i$ or more for the Methodist Church at La Grange, Ky.," and below was a line for the signature. Accompanying this was a stamped envelope addressed to Miss Saille Harwood, La Grange, Ky. Mr. McHenry slipped in a dollar, sighed, and put the letter in the mail. It is one of the newest money-raising schemes that has been introduced to the public, and if it works in all cases like it did on Mr. McHenry it ought to be successful.

WEST GRANITE CAUSES A DAY OF EXCITE-MENT AMONG THE BROKERS.

en Goldman Finds His Lond Too Heavy and Lays Down Under It—West Granite Breaks and Sells as Low as 35 Cents— Cause of the Decline—Other Stocks and Cause of the Decline—Other Stocks and Prices To-Day.

The excitement, by no means of a pleasurable nature, which has been prevalent among the holders, especially among recent purchasers of West Granite, outminated last night and this Imorning in the failure of one of the most active and well-known manipulators of this Stock. Leon Goldman, who has during the last two weeks been prominent first among the bears and next among the weight which he was carrying, and to use the slangy but expressive phrase of the street, "Laid down on his contracts." This failure had been anticihis contracts." This failure had been anticipated by a few, but the Street generally was surprised at it, as although it was known that pated by a tew, but he surprised at it, as although it was known that goldman had lost heavily, the general supposition was that he would be able to weather the storm. But a large fortune is required to stand the drain occasioned by the constant presentation of stock, privileges on which had been sold at $1 and upwards, and whose market value was 40 cents and below. These puts were made to Goldman with a frequency exasperating to the temper and highly deleterious to the bank account, the former held out, but account, the proved less enduring, and when asked to settle for $,000 shares, which he had bought on a 30-day privilege at $1.05, Goldman was obliged to admit that he had not the wherewithal and to ask for a composition. A meeting of his creditors was held yesterday evening, to whom Goldman mades a statement of his financial condition. His plight was sad, as ever since the last boom he has been almost continually on the wrong side of the market and has been suffering all the agonies of the unpleasant process known as "whip-sawing." When West Granite was rising with rocket-like rapidity, Goldman was a prominent bear, but no sooner had the stock commenced its downward plunge than he believed that he saw unmistakable signs of manipulation, addsbecame a rampant buil. The present failure is the result of this double misconception of the tendency of the market. The creditors were not inclined to press matters, but agreed upon a basis of settlement, which is understood to be the heighborhood of 50 cents on the dollar, to be paid when Goldman is able, as at the present time he has little if any means. His customers will lose nothing she settled with them before the crash. The entire amount of the iudebtedness will, it is said, not much exceed $5,000. The liabilities are divided in such a way that no one will be a heavy loser, among that no one will be a heavy loser, among that no one will be a heavy loser, among that no one will be a heavy loser, among the storm of the indepted being and Joseph J. Mullally. Others trading this morning and will continue in business. It is understood that several firms are losers on their own account to a very considerable extent.

The failure had the effect of still further depressing the price of West Granite, the call opening at 3742, at which 200 shares changed hands. Bidding then dropped to 3543, but buyers came to the front in force, and stopped the decline by purchasing upwards of 2,000 shares. A momentary fail to 35 took place, but 300 shares exhausted the supply on the market at this price, and 3544 was again bid 2,500 shares changing hands and that figure being bid for more, trading closing at 3742 asked.

The cause of the decline in the stock is said to be entirely due to the failure of the negotiations of Messrs. Holter and Paschin, which had for their object the raising of funds that the note for $45,000 failing castle First National Bank of Helena, and about March I. It is improbable that the mine will be allowed to pass out of St. Louis control.

Frisco opened with a sale of 200 shares at 572, dropping to 56%, at which the transfers aggregated 500 shares and finally to 55. At this point a strong raily was made and 2,500 shares were sold within a few moments; 56% was paid for 700 shares, and at 57% the transfers aggregated 1,400 shares, the market closing at 57% bid, 56% asked.

I. X. L., in spite of the general depression, was in unusually strong densand, and rose steadily. The stock opened on call at 8, and at this figure over 8,500 shares were sold. After the call bidding rose to 8½, and after 4,000 shares had changed hands: 9 was paid for 3,000, the lowest offers being at 10½. News was received from the mine that an additional force of men would be put to work in a short time.

Cariboo was also unusually strong. At I sales aggregating 300 shares were made, and a 11 over 2,500 shares changed hands.

Adams was 22½ bid, 500 Mary Foster sold at 11, Arizona was 10 asked, 8 bid, Azrec was offered at 55, Buckskin was 7 asked, 400 Black Oak sold at 60, Central Silver was 21½ bid, 30 asked, 16½ was bid for Concepcion, 1,000 San Fedro sold at 7. Dinero was 5 bid, 8 asked. One hundred Mountain Key sold at 31.75, and 220 at 81.72½. Silver Age was 52.42½ bid, 33 asked. Fifty-one and one-half was bid for Yums Copper. Two hundred Golden Era sold at 17½. Queen of the West was 16½ bid, offered at 17½. Major Budd was offered at 50%. Twenty-six and one-fourth was bid for M. I. Neath was 15 asked. Twenty-five was bid for Pat Murphy. Gold King was 38% bid.

Negotiations are in progress for securing the room formerly occupied by the Exchange Bank, on Third street, between Locust and Olive streets, for the mining exchange, which has outgrown its present quarters. If the lease can be secured, a change to that location will probably be made within a short time.

THE most interesting question concerning the Harrison Cabinet is the old problem, whether the dog will wag the tail or the tail will wag the dog. This might be answered if the identity of the dog could be definitely established.

HERE is a problem in political arithme tic. If a single Democratic district in Missouri can lose a majerity of two thousand in three months and sixteen days how much Democratic majority will be left in the State at the close of Gov. FRANCIS' administration?

THE report that the persons who planned and executed the murder of JOHN M. WILL HISTORY REPEAT ITSELF? Indications are cropping out from many urces that Gen. HARRISON is in danger of provoking one of the prettiest fights that ever disturbed the rest of a President. For one thing, the leaders of the Republican party who have not been summoned to Indiana-and few of them have enjoyed that honor—feel hurt and angry at the independent manner in which the General has selected his cabinet advisers Naturally they will have a poor opinion of his selections. A little cheap courtes in the way of complimenting the Repub lican chiefs by asking their advice, saved him their opposition.

But this is not the worst of the situation.

Under the caption of "Knives for HARRIson," the New York WORLD printed an article based on what was said to be the pest authority that there is a volcano in was asserted that the Blaine men re- party in the State. on Office, 32 Cockspur Street, Charing Cross. ceived pledges from HARRISON satisfactory to them before agreeing to nominate him, and cozened the New York delegaton into solid support of him by an indefinite assurance of recognition which they have since repudiated. It is also said that the only consideration which is holding PLATT and his associates from open warfare is a belief that Gen. HARRISON will adhere to the principle of distributing offices through local representatives, and that therefore the New York Senators and Representatives will control the patronage of New York.

> It will be remembered that this was the point at issue over the appointment of ROBERTSON as Collector of the Port of New York during GARFIELD's administration. It was a point raised by BLAINE and he conquered, forcing the resignations of CONKLING and PLATT and resultng in the worst split the Republican party ever experienced. BLAINE is again at the helm. Will the fight be repeated? The Maine man is not accustomed to being a figurehead or a deadhead in any enterprise and it is possible that Mr. PLATT will have another opportunity to resign.

The humiliating spectacle is presented to the citizens of St. Louis of the Governor openly violating the law and the State Senate obsequiously cringing to his nod and indorsing and affirming his action without hesitation or question. If ever St. Louis and the State of Missouri needed independent men or an independent organization of citizens to test the law and to see that State and city officials do not make a shuttlecock of laws and rights they need it at the present moment.

JUDGE HOAR'S doctrine that a member of the Legislature violates his oath by voting to submit a prohibition amendment to the people when the member himself opposes its adoption by the people, is saturated with radical opposition to American ideas of popular self-government. It assumes that the Legislature is not a mere agency of popular selfgovernment but a device to thwart such government. The proposition that a member is bound by his oath citizen or public official in the State of & vote against permanent statutes which he regards as opposed to the public welfare can not be questioned. But this proposition does not apply when the member does not himself vote to make prohibition the permanent law of the State and votes only to let the people rather than the Legislature decide that shave. question. There is nothing in his oath forbidding him to show such respect for the superior right and ability of the people to amend their Constitution whenever they wish to do so:

That is all the de mand of the German Government can get ours to do against him.

THE Fourth District, which the Republicans nearly captured on Tuesday, gave CLEVELAND 15,498 and BLAINE 18,878 in 1884. The vote in 1888 footed up 16,691 for CLEVELAND, 14,398 for HARRISON, and an aggregate of 1,344 for the Union Labor and Prohibition tickets. CLEVELAND'S plurality over BLAINE in 1884 was 1,625. His plurality over HARRISON in 1888 was 2,293, and his majority over all 949. BURNES' large pluralities were explained by the fact that he had a support outside whether he takes it or not, might have of his party which more than made up for any defection within and always managed to scatter and demoralize the opposition to him. But what Wilson lacks of CLEVE-LAND's vote and plurality in the district must be accepted as measuring correctly the growth of popular dissatisfaction with the party on the point of eruption. In the House of Delegates, on one of the last nights of the session, the Merchants' bill was throttled, and the rival bill was passed. Mayor Francis made things even by vetoing the Tunnel bill, and both measures were reintroduced. The Tunnel bill passed again and was awaiting the Mayor's attention when Mr. Francis went to Wisconsin on a short visit to his family. President Ailen was at that time in Massachusetts, but a day or two after Mayor Francis' departure Mr. Ailen walked into the office signed the bill and made it a law retarding the financial arrangements for the Merchants' Bridge project considerably. Mayor Francis protested against this assumption of mayoral rights by an acting Mayor, but President Ailen held that, as he interpreted the charter, he had a right to dispose of all the business coming up during his term in the Executive Chair, however brief. Later he gave Mayor Francis more evidence of his faith in this interpretation. The appointment of a superintendent of the Poor-house, vice Thos. Dunn of Lincoln County, Acting Chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, as absolutely necessary to meet the current expenses of running the State Government. The question is a very serious one, not only for this, but for the next Legislature also, for the reason that under the present system of assessment and taxation of property for State revenue purposes, the same discrepancy between the receipts and expenditures will exist two years from now.

Two years ago the Legislature appropriated $4,000,000, and there was in the State treasury at that time $600,000 which could be applied on the appropriation. There is in Nokomis, Ill., February 19.—O. H. Paddock treasury at that time $600,000 which could be applied on the appropriation. There is in the State Treasury now, to the credit of the revenue fund, some $16,000. Ex-State Auditor Walker estimates the revenue receipts for the ensuing year at $5,500,000; but Auditor Siebert estimates it at $300,000 iess, or $3,500,000. As atased above, Mr. Dunn says $3,700,000 is absolutely necessary to meet the expenditures of the State Government as against $4,500,000 required two years ago. As will be seen from these figures Mr. Dunn can safely count on $5,600,000, the mean better the public schools first of the week.—

This was remedied by the committee, who added an amendment to the sixth section of the measure, fixing the salary at $1,000 a year and appropriating $2,000 for that purpose for the ensuing two years. The committee then agreed to report the bill favorably. The "Wizard" to Display His Inventions at

William James, an engineer, living in the northern part of the city, was before Judge Anderson of the Second District Police Court this morning on a charge of disturbing the peace of his family. He was prosecuted by his 16-year-old daughter, Nellie, who testified that he was much addicted to drink and had worked but very little of late. He had for years been in the habit of coming home drunk, and abusing his family. Last night he came home in a worse condition than usual, and drove the family out of the house, after which he was arrested by Officer Meyerpeter. James admitted that his family were trying to get rid of him. He says, "Judge, to tell you the truth I am afraid that they will poison me." "I will fix it so they can't do that, Mr. James," said Judge Anderson. "I'li fine you $50, and let you go to the Work-house."

NEW YORK, February 20, 11 a. m.—The gook market this morning, except in a few shares, was dull and uninteresting, with slight fluctuations, which possessed little or posignificance and a generally heavy tone. The grangers and the southwesterns monopolized all the interest in the proceedings, Atchison and Burlington being the most active and at the same time the weakest stocks on the iist. First prices were generally slight fractions lower than last evening's final figures, Omaha only being exceptional, with a loss of a per cent, and after opening at 101½ retired 1 per cent, and after opening at 101½ retired 1 per cent to 100½, but except losses of 42 per cent each in Atchison and Missouri Pacific the movements in the rest of the list were scarcely perceptible. Towards the end of the hour, however, a decidedly strong tone was developed and all losses were wiped out and most of the list brought up to a shade above the opening figures, C. C. C. & I. being conspicuous with a gain of 1 per cent and Cotton Oil with a like amount. A FIRST-CLASS REMEDY IN Pectoral, Throat and Lung Diseases.

Soden Mineral Pastilles are a first-class remedy in all ca-

Soden Mineral Pastilles are prescribed by doctors in diseases of the lungs and chest, consumption and asthma. The benefit derived from their use is unexcelled, and even in chronic cases their action is alleviating, quieting and stimulant.

Soden Mineral Pastilles deserve the preference of all similar preparations, because they are a natural remedy, an unadulterated product of the springs, containing without deterioration the sanative qualities of the natural springs.

Solen Mineral Pastilles are prepared by the evaporation clent springs of the German health resort, Soden, a. T. Solen Mineral Pastilles are prepared only under the percentage of the German health resort, Soden, a. T.

Solon Minoral Partilles are most advantageously applied theria; in the former they decrease the force of the paroxyam, while preventing the latter, as the disease cannot take hold in a throat free from catarrh.

Soden Mineral Pastilles have now also been introduced in the United States, and can be had at all Apothecaries and Drug Stores at 50 cents a box. In Germany, Austria and Switzerland their sales in one year amounted to far more than two million boxes.

Soden Mineral Pastilles were investigated by the cele-brated English throat specialist, Dr. Morell Mackenzie, and among many others he writes the following, based upon his studies of the Soden Springs sing Morell Mackenzie writes: "I have watched the effects of the Soden Waters for a considerable period and regard them as extremely valuable in obstinate catarrhal affections of the throat. The small amount of iron which they contain renders them very useful in the stages of Throat Consumption, and they do good in nearly all cases of relaxation of the mucous membrane. "The Pastilles offer a most convenient method of using the waters; producing both a local and general effect. They are especially beneficial in catarrhal diseases of the air passages; I have frequently found them of great service in the case of Singers and Public Speakers.

"Signed, MORELL MACKENZIE, M.D., London, late Physician to the London Hospital, Consulting Physician to the Hospital for Diseases of the Throat, Golden Square, and Physician to the Royal Society of Musicians, 2d September, 1887."

Soden Mineral Pastilles are doubly valuable, inasmuch as they produce simultaneously the most favorable effect upon the organs of digestion. In catarrh of the stomach, hemorrhoids and habitual constipation they cause the healing and restoration of the diseased organs by reason of their exceedingly mild action. For sale by all druggists. How Oscar Wilde Gets On.

Bow Oscar Wilde Gets On.

Apropos of Diokens is was a favorite saying of his, when anyone talked of a person's coming out, that it was easy enough to come out its difficulty was to keep out—a remark practical indeed and fraught with ruth. Most people, I think, imagined that this was the difficulty with Oscar Wilde. He came out with a great spluye; his hair, his watchfool, his costume and his waikingsite started him on for a bit, but he made somewhat of a failure in his secturing tour in America, and has not been much heard of since his return, so that there was a general impression flust though he had come out well he had gone in again. But those who were well acquired with him knew better, and had perfect reliance on his unquestionable eleverness and his detarmination to make a mark.

They felt that in these days, when "every gate is thronged with sultors," a little chars latanism to call attention to one's self is not merely admissible, but is necessary; granted always that when the attention has been attracted there is something really work as the seeing in the show. Mr. Wilde has justified these good opinions by working unobtrusively indeed, but always well. For the past tweive months he has been editing a magnizine called the Woman's World, and gradually making it a power in its way, and this month he appearas as the author of two essays, one published in the Fornightly, the other in the Nineteenth Century, both of which will undoubtedly command notice. Neither of them could have been wrritten but by a man of exceptional talent and good education; the esprit moqueur runs through both, and each is full of impudent affectation with which one cannot iall to be amused. For, clever as he is in many things, Mr. Wilde is eleverest in his knowledge of the world; in his innocent simplicity he has the keenest appreciation of the best manner of advancing his own interests; and, though anything but a calculating boy, is able to reckon as quickly as any one how many blue beans make five.

egraph to the POST-DISPATCE. AGO, Ill., February 20.—Chicago has entertaining royalty unawares. The CHICAGO, Ill., February 20.—Chicago has been entertaining royalty unawares. The Duke de Durcal, who is staying at the Hotel Richelleu with his cousin, the Chevalier Francis Cambreleng, and his friend, the Chevalier Ramiro Uriumdo y Saavedra, Captain of Cavalry in the Spanish army, is, according to Spanish reckoning, an uncle of the baby King of Spain. According to our reckoning he is a third cousin of the King. His fall name is Don Pedro de Bourbon y Bourbon, Duque de Durcal. He is a son of Don Sebastian de Bourbon, who was first cousin of King Alfonso XII. and of Dona Christina de Bourbon. He came with letters of introduction to some of the leading families of this city and has been hospitably received. He has visited the Board of Trade, the Stock Yards, the Auditorium, the town of Puliman and everything worth seeing. He is full of praise for the beauties of the city. If you would picture this young Spanish grandee, take any photograph of the late King of Spain. Alfonso XII. and the Duke of Durcal are almost absolutely the same man. The likeness is incredibly strong, even to the twitching of the lower jaw, which is hereditary with the family. His visit to this country is for the purpose of disposing of his father's collection of paintings, which are now in New York and are soon to be exhibited in the American Art Association galleries in that city. He considers it among the most famous private collections in the world, and values it at from $50,000 to $1,000,000. It includes two Murillos, "The Madonna del Carmen," and a child Christ. There are also more or less famous works by Velasquese, Rembrandt, Tenlers, Van Eyck and others of the Dutch, Flemish and Spanish masters, covering examples from the end of the fourteenth century to the beginning of the nineteenth.

to the election of officers, and the following were chosen: Rev. Father Brown, Spiritual Director; Louis Meyer, President; Dan Riley, Vice-President; A. G. Weinman, Recording Secretary; Alex Joel, Financial Secretary, and A. Brennaun, Treasurer. Monday night a reception was beid in the sodality Club-house, the old Garrison mansion, located on Leonard avenue and Thomas street. Addresses were made by Honorary Members Frank Gaiennie, Redmond Cleary, Festus J. Wade, P. H. Degnan and Daniel O'Connell Tracey. An elegant repast was served by the ladies of the parish, The sodality's Club-house is very commodious and nicely furnished. It contains ten rooms. Billiard tables and pool tables have been purchased for the benefit of those who enjoy that kind of amusement and a library has also been started. Already it contains a number of good volumes but will be added to continually by contribution. The club-rooms will be open every evening from 7:30 to 10 o'clock.

THE AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY.

This great union national society is now engaged through the vieit to the city of Rev. Mr. Rosseter, its Secretary for this district, in its annual appeal to the citizens. Thirteen million five hundred and forty-three thousand two hundred and twenty-three bomes of the destitute of the country have had the gospel taken to them by the personal visits, conversation, and prayers of its hundreds of missionaries (194 being thus employed the last year, and eleven in Missouri) and by the printed page circulated by them, 15,285,181 volumes of saving truth have been left in those homes; 450,000 religious or social meetings held; 1,184,866 families found destitute of all religious reading, and 476,881 without a Bible. In supplying these needy multitudes with such literature an average of over a million pages each week of the year have been donated to them. This single work is its special mission, which it seeks to continue and extend, and in behalf of which Mr. Rosseter makes his appeal. During the last forty-five years, while hundreds of thousa

THAT WITCHCRAFT STORY. Mrs. McCarthy Partially Explains How It

Was Started. Mrs. McCarthy, who was referred to yester day as one who knew of the practice of witcheraft by Maria Wylly, the nurse at St. Luke's til Saturday next, two daily sessions at Hospital, was seen this morning at the residence of Mr. John Dunham, 2631 Pine street. As soon as the matter was mentioned Mrs. McCarthy said: "I was very much surprised to learn that anything was the matter with Maria, and particularly that she spoke of me as one who had talked about her. She worked for me at the Chidren's Hospital and was an excellent servant. She left there two years ago and since then I have not seen her nor did I know where she was. I have never spoken of her and I cannot imagine what has put the notion in her head that I have. When she was at the Children's Hospital she was somewhat peculiar, but I never thought there was anything the matter with her mind, and as for witchcraft I never heard of the charge until I saw by the paper that it was the subject of rumor. Maria had some peculiar ways. She would pass her hand over things, but it was only a sort of habit with her, not an attempt to put spells on people or things. She would sometimes get moody and for two or three days she would speak to no one, but I humored her and always tried to get along with her the best I could. I can readily see just how stories of witchcraft might be started by anyone who wanted to start them, for Maria's little peculiarities might be magnified and mystery thrown about them if anyone was foolish enough to believe in such nonsense." McCarthy said: "I was very much surprised MEDICINE for bodily ills,

THE ORIGIN OF THE BOARD. In reference to the board and its work, Mr. long been connected with the management. active part in directing the operations of the of the board, said to a Post-DISPATCH reporter: "Not one churchman in 100 knows what we have done and are doing. We are an organization entirely distinct from and independent of the Board of Home Missions, although, of course, subordinate to the General Assembly. subordinate to the General Assembly. Immediately after the war, some time during 1868, it was decided to commence active missionary work among the recently freed slaves, and from this came the title of the board. For various reasons but little beyond temporary organization was accomplished during the first four or five years, and our active work cannot be given an earlier date than 1870. Then, however, the board, which has its headquarters at Pittsburg, went into its work with heart and soul, and considering the obstacles that have been met with, our success has been wonderful."
